Statement of significance	The former ES &amp; A Bank (English, Scottish &amp; Australian Bank) and residence are significant for their historical association with the early commercial development of Palmwoods and in demonstrating the former practice of banks providing housing for their rural managers. Both buildings are highly-intact and highly-attractive and are good representative examples of an early 20th century rural bank and associated manager's residence. In 1915, the ES &amp; A Bank built a small timber building with a corrugated iron roof. Immediately behind the bank and on part of the adjoining land, a residence was constructed. The core of the building was timber with a pyramid style roof of corrugated iron. Verandahs with wooden balustrades and rails surrounded the house on two sides. The external appearance of both buildings has been remarkably well-preserved since their construction in the pre-World War I period.
